Terrorism Update

The current threat level for the UK is 'SUBSTANTIAL', meaning a terror attack is 'likely'. For further information see GOV.UK.

'Mega Event' Commonwealth Games Could Attract 'Piggyback' Attacks (Express 25th June)

Terror expert and senior lecturer at the University of Birmingham, Dr Steve Hewitt, has warned the UK's security services to be on their top game ahead of the Commonwealth Games hosted in Birmingham this summer, suggesting it could be a target for state and non-state attacks.

"Mega-events are attractive to terrorists because of the potential audience that can be reached...The 7/7 attacks in 2005 occurred in London at the same time that the G8 meetings were going on at a very secure site in Scotland...These piggyback attacks are attractive as they're easier to carry out because they are targeting secure sites but they also gain greater attention because they occur at the same time as prominent events."

Figen Murray Receives OBE from Prince William (Manchester Evening News 24th June) 1.

Mother of Manchester Arena bombing victim and Protect duty lobbyist and campaigner, Figen Murray received an OBE last week from Prince William for her 'work and services in the realm of counter terrorism'. Since the arena attack Figen has campaigned tirelessly for a Martyn's Law (named after her son) to see a change in how we manage security at large venues. She continues to work to support the upcoming 'Protect Duty' and has recently completed a masters degree in counter terrorism and is also on the board of the Global Terrorism Information Network (TinyG). When receiving her OBE Figen said she was determined 'to make our young people more understanding and resilient to extremist influences'.

Arena Memorial Vandal Sentenced to Two Year Community Order (BBC News 23rd June)

24 year-old Anwar Hosseni was given a two-year community order at Manchester Crown Court last week for causing £10,000 (GBP) in damage to the Manchester Arena Bombing Memorial in February of this year. Hosseni, who is believed to suffer from mental health issues, scratched lines across the marble memorial using a Buddhist statute. When arrested he claimed he wanted to give "love, unity, honour and gratitude for the souls of those who passed away". Bereaved families from the 2017 arena attack read out statements in court with one saying:

"To know that someone has caused such damage in such a callous, nasty and pointless way breaks ours hearts again."

The sitting judge accepted Hosseni's intention was not malicious and he has since apologised stating he is "sorry for the pain that he has caused." He has also been banned from visiting the site.

Three People Arrested in 'Tragedy in Texas' Horror (Reuters 28th June)

50 migrants were found dead in an abandoned truck trailer in San Antonio Texas on Monday, with a further 16 casualties transported to hospital for treatment. Officials describe discovering "stacks of bodies" in the unventilated truck with no signs of water or air conditioning. The victims were discovered after a nearby worker heard pleas for help and looked inside having discovered the trailer doors partially open. The truck was found close to a popular people smuggling route from Mexico and is not the first tragedy to hit the area. In 2003 19 migrants were saved from near death and ten migrants died along the route in 2017 all in similar circumstances. Three people have been arrested in relation to the offence, but no further details have been released regarding their connection to the horror. The victims are believed to be Guatemalan, Mexican and Honduran.

Summer of Discontent Continues as More Unions Join the Fray (iNews 27th June) 2.3.4.5.

Barristers commenced four weeks of strike action across the UK over legal aid funding this week, starting with a two-day strike on Monday and Tuesday, to be followed by three days of action next week and so on until July 18th when they begin a five-day walk out. Criminal Bar Association members chose to strike over long running issues on pay and conditions joining thousands more workers striking this summer over working conditions and job security. Hull Trains, Greater Anglia and Croydon Tramlink will strike 28th and 29th June, and 13th and 14th July. Avanti West Coast could strike as could the Greater Anglia network including the Stansted Express. Workers on CrossCountry, East Midlands and West Midlands trains may engage in action that could disrupt the Commonwealth Games in July and 6,000 Network Rail staff have been served notice of possible strike action from 25th July. Bus services are expected to face disruption should members vote for strike action in York and London and British Airways ground-handling staff and check-in agents at Heathrow Terminals 3 and 5 have already voted to walk out with thousands more to be balloted to join the action. Aviation members of the Unite and GMB unions meet this week to discuss plans for strike action in July (with some suggesting it could be as soon as next Saturday 9th and Sunday 10th).

Windrush Tribute Statue Unveiled at London's Waterloo Station (Guardian 22nd June) 6.

Jamaican born sculptor, Basil Watson's tribute to the Windrush generation, was unveiled by the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and Baroness Floella Benjamin at Waterloo station on National Windrush Day (Tuesday 22nd June) last week. The National monument is in thanks to the hundreds of people who travelled from the Caribbean for their 'ambition, courage and contribution to Britain' the artist said. The 3.6 metre statue, chosen from four finalists shows a man, woman and child in their 'Sunday Best' on top of suitcases. The Queen also sent her "warmest good wishes on the historic occasion" adding:

"It gives me pleasure to extend my congratulations on the creation of the National Windrush Monument...The unveiling at Waterloo Station on Windrush Day serves as a fitting thank you to the Windrush pioneers and their descendants, in recognition of the profound contribution they have made to the United Kingdom over the decades...It is my hope that the memorial will serve to inspire present and future generations."

22 Dead From Unknown Source in South African City Club (Al Jazeera 27th June)

Mystery still surrounds the cause of death of the 22 youths found unresponsive in a nightclub in East London City, South Africa in the early hours of Sunday morning. Emergency services were called to the scene around 4am with one witness describing being sprayed with a substance, possibly by bouncers when the audience was asked to leave due to overcrowding. The club became too full after rumours of celebrity appearances were circulated and was notorious for allowing in underage drinkers. The witness described being sprayed by something akin to pepper spray before watching someone die and then passing out herself, waking a few hours later by staff who thought she was dead.

Death Toll Continues to Rise as Chlorine Leak Blamed for Explosion in Jordan (Reuters 27th June)

13 people have died and more than 150 injured in a chemical explosion at Jordan 's Aqaba port yesterday when a large cylinder filled with 25 tonnes of chlorine gas fell from a crane, at height, causing a violent explosion and spilling out a yellow toxic gas. Local residents were advised to close doors and windows as the clean-up operation commenced. Most of the Port's docks remained shut as food contamination (for grain silos) and safety checks were carried out with the port up and running again by Tuesday. It is believed a cable snapped when transporting the liquified gas.

Activists Set 'Tunnelling Record' Under HS2 Site in Swynnerton (BBC News 24th June) 7.

Climate campaigners at the Swynnerton HS2 construction site in Staffordshire claim to have a set a record for the longest length of time spent underground by an activist in the UK. The activist's subterranean efforts commenced after attempts were made to evict the protestors from the camp back in May of this year. Approximately 40 protestors had been living on site (near the A51) for a year prior to the evictions and had prepared tunnels and stored food. Swampy et al were eventually removed last week after 46 days underground.

Protest Guidance

GENERAL ADVICE

- It is recommended you maintain a good awareness
 Inform staff that routes to work may be of your surroundings if in the vicinity of a demonstration or public gathering as some protests may escalate into violence.
- Anticipate localised travel disruption in the area of the demonstration.
- Allow additional time for journeys or arrange alternate routes to minimise potential delays.
- If in the area of a spontaneous protest, it is recommended to leave the area by the quickest means possible and seek a secure location.
- Continue to monitor media sources for updates and additions to the scheduled events.
- Consider the possibility of regular protests occurring throughout the summer as they are often not isolated events, with activists returning to the same locations time and again.

KEEPING STAFF INFORMED AND PREPARED

- impacted by protest groups.
- Keep staff updated and provide guidance on how to approach the site (e.g. consider dressing down, no identification on display on approach to site, organised travel from transport hubs).
- Morning Briefs to include lockdown measures and scenario discussion to aid confidence in SOPs.
- Escalation and Incident procedures to be brief. Allocated Team Leads to be communicated.
- Named First Aiders on site to be communicated to the rest of the team daily.

ACCESS CONTROL

- Secondary access points to be used, in order to keep main access areas clear.
- Perimeter Surveillance to be proactively undertaken.
- Reinforce security on approach to site.

PATROLS

- To identify suspicious activity in the area.
- Vary patrols by changing routes and frequency.
- Check all exterior perimeter fencing.

STAFF

- Consider increasing the number of staff on duty.
- Consider patrolling in pairs if appropriate.
- Staff access to the building may be prevented. Consideration should be given to working from another location.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND CYBER SECURITY

- Monitor social media platforms for chatter regarding protests in your vicinity.
- Further guidance to staff could be given regarding their personal cyber security to ensure no cyber-attacks via home working Wi-Fi.
